UNIT 6 TEST LISTENING AUDIO SCRIPT

David is at the shops with his dad. Listen to him speak and put the food (A–H) in the order it goes in his shopping basket. There are two foods you don’t need. You will hear David speak two times.

David: We haven’t got much rice at home. We need some more. Oh. Here it is. Now … what’s next on my list – some grapes. But they’re not here. I can get some bread first. Ah, here’s the bread. Oh, that cheese looks nice. But I don’t need any cheese. OK. Here’s the milk. Mum needs some for her coffee. Now what? Do we need any eggs? No, I don’t think so. We need some meat, but I can get some tea here first. … Now here’s the meat. The steak doesn’t look good – I don’t want any of that. Hmm … I can get this small chicken instead. It looks better. What can we have with the chicken? Oh, the rice, of course. Now for those grapes. Oh dear. There are no grapes, but there is watermelon. This looks like a good one. OK … all done.

Narrator: Now listen again.

Listen to the conversation. Match the food and drinks (A–H) to the people (0–10). You hear the conversation two times.

Mum: Hi David, I see you have the shopping. What did you get?

David: There’s milk for all of us, Mum, but the chicken is for me later. Is there more food in the fridge?

Mum: Well, I know your sister likes pizza so there’s one for her. And there are vegetables for my soup tonight. I love soup.

David: Anna’s got a lot of orange juice in the fridge – do you think I can have some?

Mum: Of course, but don’t drink a lot. You know how much Anna loves it!

David: OK – just one glass. Is Carl coming to dinner tonight?

Mum: Yes. We’ve got some ice cream in the fridge for him – it’s his favourite.

David: Great! There’s a watermelon too. I don’t think Kelly eats much ice cream. She likes fruit.

Mum: What about Dad?

David: Dad likes rice. He can have rice and some of my chicken for dinner.
